

"It's Difficult Not Knowing"

It's difficult not knowing
If our voices you can hear;
We stand beside your bedside
As your fam'ly we are near.
So tenderly we squeeze your hand
And hope our warmth you feel;
We wish we had the answer
That would make your body heal.
We wish your eyes could see the love
Around you in this place;
So many more would fill the room
If here there was more space.
You have your friends behind you
And you have your fam'ly here,
But most of all you have the Lord,
His presence always near.
