

“Just Days Ago”

Just days ago I walked the earth
And contemplated heaven's worth,
But now my eyes can clearly see
What Christ my Lord prepared for me.
The sufferings and the pains I knew
Do not compare with glory's view;
A light affliction if compared
To all with me in Christ is shared.
I wish with words your minds impress,
But human tongue cannot express,
Nor can your ears attempt embrace
What I behold now face-to-face.
Although I love my fam'ly dear
And long to have you by me near,
Could I return for just one day--
From Christ I would not turn away.
But someday when your journey's o'er,
I'll see you on this distant shore,
And then together we will be
With Christ for all eternity.

T. R. Hobson
Copyright 12-17-15
www.hobsonshymns.com