

"Making a Difference"

Is there someone in your life--
Not parents, sibling, child or wife
Not friend nor others who are nice--
To whom you share the love of Christ?
Some people are not hard to serve:
They're kind to you, not on your nerves;
Their lives have order and not mess;
You're not offended by their dress.
But what I really want to know--
Do you love people who are low?
Those low in favor, full of need,
Who need someone to intercede?
Do you let comfort be your guide
To whom you serve or gets denied?
Remember heaven Jesus left
And poor became so you'd be blest!
Perhaps their problems they have earned
And by their choices they've been burned,
But if it were not for God's grace,
It could be you now in their place.
Will you unselfishly be spent
For those whose lives are hurt and bent?
Will you compassion demonstrate
And make a diff'rence 'fore too late?
